A Few Paragraphs Not Intended to Displease.

BOTH GRAVE AND GAY

They Are Not Fiction But Products From Thoughtful Cogitation and Everyday
Events in Local Life

Editors are the first to hear gossip or scandal, indiscretions of men or women, things unfit for publication, intrigues, clandestine meetings, night buggy rides, girls gone astray, flirtations of married women, amours of men, and in fact, all the neighborhood scandal, says a contemporary. Editors generally know all the naughty doings in the community, no matter how secret. If only half they hear were published, divorces suits would follow in some cases, ostracisms in others, shot guns and gore, imprisonment, desolate homes, shame, humiliation and misery. The editor learns much of the shame and hypocrisy of life, and it is a wonder he believes in anything on earth, in heaven or the hereafter. People who abuse the editor's blunder sometimes owe their standing in society to his forbearance.

A New York man died from taking a bath. A sudden change is often accompanied by direful effects.

And now comes a man who dropped dead when confronted by the wife he had deserted. Certainly if it meant death for him to meet her, he was justified in leaving her. His life with her must have been a wonderful tale of terror.

Mr. David Bradute, whose presence is always noticed upon the opening of the doors at the opera house, has a peculiar solution for the show problem. Mr. Bradute thinks that it is his duty to help all the shows, for they deserve a living and if they were not in this business they would be in something else, possibly the raising of fine Poled Angus Cattle. Consequently Mr. B. thinks it more profitable to attend the shows and assist them in this manner, and thereby keep down competition.

Strictly speaking of course a man can't be ready to die for two different girls without leading a double life.

Even if we don't love our neighbor as we should we can see no reason why he should not have a kind feeling for us.

JUNE 15.

PARKER'S FOUNTAIN PEN

SAM McCOLLUM,

The Jeweler.

CEARVILLE, OHIO.

One of our young men who embarked in the chicken business not many years ago, concluded that he would set a hen, but was somewhat timid about the work for fear of being pecked by the old hen. She was bound to set anyway, and he thought it would pay better to let her hatch out some chickens. So he invented a way to get the eggs under her without danger of getting pecked. He took a corset box and removed both ends. This made a shute which he placed under biddy, then he dropped an egg in the slot and allowed it to roll to place. Thus he got all the eggs where they would do the most good, and yet did not risk his life by getting hen-pecked.

At any rate the hands of a clock never strike for shorter hours.

A man who took a city paper in preference to one printed in his home town because he could get more reading out of it, was attracted by the advertisement of a pocket fire escape, which would be forwarded on receipt of one dollar. He sent the cash and in a few days received a copy of the New Testament.

Ideals Entertain.

A "Handy Wagon" well most of those who attended the Ideal entertainment at the opera house Tuesday evening wanted a "wagon handy," the entertainment was far from being what was advertised, the only thing of consequence being the bango playing. It certainly requires considerable nerve to ask 10, 25 and 35 cents to see a display of certain firms' products. It is an imposition on the public to conduct a performance on such grounds. Evidently Manager Jackson was not familiar with the show or he would have advertised it as a troupe representing a certain firm's goods, and in this way would not have deceived a home audience.

It has always been a difficult matter to get a paying house for entertainments here, but if this is to be the principle, Cedarville need never expect a first class entertainment. Imagine yourself sitting in a seat that cost you thirty-five cents, listening to some firm's advertising tale of woe. The lectures about Handy wagons, Bradley plows, Deering binders and mowers and Sharple's Cream separators, were occasionally interspersed with an illustrated song, war view, or bango solo.

They're coming back next year, so they say, we hope they do, if only for the sake of the Handy Wagon Co., of Saginaw, Mich.

A New Departure.

The Herald will, beginning with the first issue in June, give a full list of the money orders as they are issued by the county auditor. This will show our readers for what it has been issued, to whom, and how allowed. The manner in which the commissioners reports have been "dished up" of late, gives the casual reader only a faint idea of what is being done with the county finances.

It has been the object of the Herald to give to the public only such statements as were correct, and we will trace to the end anything that has the slightest mark of crookedness. This county has gained considerable notoriety with the conduct of some of her officers and it is nothing more than proper that each tax payer knows where every dollar goes, and for what. Remember unless everything is on the "straight" someone has their fingers "on your pocket-book."

Mayor's Court.

More Jones and Harry Gaitner the former colored, the other white, became involved in a fight on Main Street, Tuesday evening. The two were promptly arrested and charged with disorderly conduct. Each was given a fine, costs and all amounting to $8.10. Arrangements were made for the payment and if not fulfilled a work house sentence will be given.

Senatorial Convention.

The senatorial convention of the Fifth-Sixth District was held in Xenia, Tuesday. Clinton, Ross, Highland, Fayette and Greene composed the districts.

Hon. D. G. Marron, of Highland, called the meeting to order and announced John Logan, of Fayette, as chairman. A number of committees were appointed and each retired for their work. A contest was on between two delegations from Fayette county but the matter was soon settled.

The temporary organization was made the permanent organization and the call for nominations followed. The name of Hon. T. M. Watts, of Highland, was announced and nominated by acclamation and shouts and cheers.

Resolutions commending the administration of McKinley, Hanna, Foraker, Nash, etc., was passed.

Herald's Scoop.

The Herald's Scoop on a rumor which was mentioned in last week's issue caused quite a little commotion in Xenia the first of the week. A noted Divine of the Capitol took a copy of the Herald and "ten minute lectures" and "heart-to-heart talks" to a number of the citizens of that place. In fact the rumor was soon squelched and the "ex-demonstrator" who had been mentioned as a possible candidate for State senator was side tracked, and every thing placed in readiness for a more suitable candidate.

AMONG OUR EXCHANGES.

Mr. W. M. McMillan has sold his interest in the undertaking firm of Williams & McMillan to Mr. S. G. Morrow, of Port William, an experienced funeral director and practical embalmer. Mr. McMillan has accepted a lucrative position with Harry Andrews, of Flemingsburg, Ky., and will leave with his family for his new home in a few days. During his business career in Jeffersonville Mr. McMillan has made many warm friends. His firm is today one of the best equipped and most successful undertakings establishments in the county. Mr. McMillan is considered one of the leading if not the best man in his line in the county. He has an extensive knowledge of the art of embalming and as a funeral director has few equals. We bespeak for him abundant success in his new location. —Jeffersonville Citizen.

What's a body going to do? asks an exchange.

A Sandusky man is dead from the effects of a drink of water; a Findlay man is a corpse from drinking a glass of beer; several have died recently drinking milk; whiskey has killed many; "wine bitches like a serpent and stings like an adder," a Rising-sun man died from eating pork; beef is said to be embalmed; so is sausage; also contains poisonous coloring, they say; sugar is said to be made of glucose and white earth partially; coffee on peas and weed seeds, tea is colored on copper and may be poisonous; canned goods might become poisoned from the tin; the air we breathe is full of tubercles, grip bacilli and fever germs; bank notes may convey a deadly disease; cloth of all sorts may be filled with millions of disease germs.

What's a fellow going to do if he can find nothing to eat, drink or wear?

Talking to Xenia.

Yesterday at noon was the initial message sent over the independent telephone line from Cedarville to Xenia. A line of wires has been put up connecting the two places, and for the present a toll station will be operated in Xenia. Citizens as well as subscribers will be glad to hear of the news.

It will require about thirty days to complete the exchange in Xenia. The local company's service will then be worth three-fold what it is at present. An independent company has secured a franchise in Dayton and commenced work, so it can be seen that this line will be of great service to our business.

Hung in Effigy.

John Alexander Dowie and three of his followers were on Thursday declared criminally responsible for the death of Mrs. Emma Judd, a member of Zion Church. According to the coroner's verdict they were bound over to the grand jury. This is the first time that the "Divine Healer" and some of his believers will have to stand trial for their fanaticism that has caused misery and suffering to hundreds.

Detectives have been searching for these four, but up to this time have been unable to find them. Heenrika Bratsch, who nursed Mrs. Judd, was placed under arrest to be held till the grand jury meets.

The excitement is intense and it is feared there will be an outbreak in the city. In South Chicago, Thursday night, Dr. Dowie was burned in effigy. A stuffed likeness of the head of Zion was procured, ignited and thrown over a telephone pole. A howling mob surrounded the burning object, the sight of which only intensified the feeling against the "leader."

Mrs. Dowie has just returned from Europe and a reception was held for her on Thursday evening. The function was interrupted suddenly when "Overseers" Dowie announced to the hundreds of fanatics and followers that had gathered, that "her husband had gone out of town," but it is believed that he has not left the city but is in hiding from the officers of the law. Mrs. Dowie regards the action against her husband as persecution, brought on by the coroner's jury and newspapers, each of which received a "hot roast."

Obituary.

Eliza Jane McGee was born May 18, 1841 and departed this life May 18, 1901, aged 60 years. The deceased was born in Pendleton County, Ky., and was married to Charles McGee October 27, 1870. Two children were born to them, Minnie, now deceased, and Florence.

Early in life she identified herself with the church of God, and for the past 17 years she has been a member of the Center Street, A. M. E. Church, Springfield, O.

Previous to her coming to Cedarville to live with her daughter, Mrs. David Williams, she had spent 13 years of her life at Clifton, Ohio. For six months intense suffering was her portion but she bore it without a murmur, for God was ever her rock and shield. At six o'clock Saturday evening, May 18, God called her from her misery and from life's struggles.

She leaves a husband, daughter, five grandchildren and two son-in-laws to mourn her loss.

13 GRADUATES

Of Our High School Deliver Their Orations and

RECEIVE DIPLOMAS.

The Embryo Orators Covered Themselves
With Glory.—The Music Was Good.

The twenty-fifth annual commencement exercises of the Cedarville Public Schools was held in the opera house last evening. Thirteen graduates have finished their work and received their diplomas. The house was filled to overflowing with friends and parents who had gathered to hear their discourses. The stage was beautifully decorated with flowers, white and blue bunting, the class colors, with the motto, "Semper Paratum," hanging over the speakers.

The music for the occasion was furnished by the Excelsior Mandolin Orchestra, of Springfield, who rendered several very appropriate pieces. The exercises for the evening were opened with invocation by Rev. A. Hamilton pastor of the M. E. Church.

The orations of these thirteen graduates were all excellent and delivered in a manner creditable to both speaker and professor. We regret very much that we could not give a synopsis of each oration, but owing to the large number in the class and the lateness of the week we were forced to omit same on account of time.

The program will be found elsewhere in this issue.

The diplomas were presented to the class by Prof. R. A. Brown, his remarks being right to the point and very impressive. The basis were from the following:

"First class of the 20th century."

"25th class, celebrating the Silver Anniversary." "Largest class in the history of the schools."

With all these the class should strive to keep up the records. The time that they are being launched in life is one of wonderful development and speed, and as the thundering express, which carries its force owing to the speed, so with the class. Each must strive to hold this power in order to reach the intended destination.

"That power intoxicates the best heart as wine the strongest head."

The professors remarks to the class in regard to their work, he gave them considerable commendation all of which they justly deserve. This ends the first year of Prof. Brown's career in our schools and to him we voice the sentiment of the people in saying that his work has been satisfactory in every respect. The professor coming here last September, each person and everything being strange to him, caused him to be considerable handicapped in his school work. Professor has been re-elected for another year and we bespeak even a more successful year than the past.

Mr. William H. Pickeral, of Dayton, spent Sunday with his sister, Mrs. Frank Jenkins.

business for themselves, principally farming, while the rest are working concerning the compensation which seventeen of the latter class will re-have positions of $2,000 per annum;

one at $1,200; three at $1,000; while a conservative estimate places the av-
